The current Keyholder died of old age last month, and the Five Cavaliers were dispatched to oversee the appointment of the new Keyholder. Recently, the king has received frustrated reports from the Cavaliers, complaining of trickery and threats during the Appointment. He dispatched you to determine what is happening and ensure that his Cavaliers make the best possible choice.

Rammisi: I quickly seek an audience with the Cavaliers

Cavaller Cestrin: "We understand your plight, comrade. We will serve the king in your own fashion, under the rules he has given you."

Cavaller Cestrin: And we serve him in our own fashion, under the rules he has given us. Bring us proof, bring us facts, and we will weigh them against all the other evidence we possess. Yes, it is possible that information you yourself do not possess will cause us to decide that a candidate whose actions you detest is preferable to another whose actions you applaud."

Rammisi: but we have found significant problems with each candidate

Rammisi: Their actions not only border on criminal, they are in fact evil!

Cavaller Cestrin: Neither candidate is perfect, not by any stretch of the imagination. But only one of the four ancient houses can become Keyholder, and a Keyholder must be found. So we serve as we must. Do what you can to work with us."
